The Price Battle of the Books

TO-DAY'S Book News appeals to every intelligent person. It concerns One Hundred Thousand Volumes, divided between our two stores, and offered simultaneously in New York and Philadelphia.

Prominent in the collection is the entire balance of Merrill & Baker's Editions of Ruskin's Works. At 25 and 30 cents you can buy volumes that were sold at 75c., $1, $1.25. Sets of Modern Painters, 5 vols., at $1.90, that were $7.50; selected sets, 4 vols., at $1, that were $4.

Auction Trade Sales have contributed largely. Many limited editions and choice sets of popular works are offered at one-tenth, one-quarter and one-half the original prices.

At twenty cents a volume there are acres of books that were published at 50c. to $1. Many others at 15c., 25c. and 30c., which prices are but a commission upon publishers' rates.

Every sort of literature is included in the great offering.

The printed list includes only a few selections from the great number of titles and the collection represents the best books.

Mail orders will be filled if the books wanted are in stock when the orders are received.

Our Book Store has been greatly expanded for the accommodation of these books, and the large audience they will draw.

Ruskin's Works. We have purchased the en-tire remainder of this most modern edition of the Great Art Critic's works. Quantities limited.

Here's Your Lining!

Extra values are so much a part of the Merchandise man's daily life and effort that when the advertiser gets a note like this from the Lining man, it is a matter for serious attention:-

"I think this is the strongest lining item that I have ever known. Goods like these are selling everywhere at 25c. a yard. There is a strong demand for them, and every color in the lot is a wanted one. I do not believe that we will have another offer like this in years. Please tell about it in Wednesday's papers."

The goods which thus awake the enthusiasm of a trained and unemotional buyer are 9,000 yards of a high-class cotton moire lining 38 inches wide in eighteen colorings, and at Twelve-and-a-Half Cents a Yard. That's all. His note tells the rest.

The Shoe-Store Serial Story

For every new day, a new chapter, and for every chapter a different sort of bargain in the Fifth Floor Shoe-selling. It is only the truth that we had never so much as hoped for such selling as this. In This tells of fact, our difficulty is not in the selling, but in the buying. We cannot get the goods fast enough for your demands.

That which follows is the day's news that we feel safe in printing. It is immensely important, as you will see by reading. Yet the printed story is only a fraction of the truth. The rest lies in little lots, too small made, if you wish them. And all are to talk about, but infinitely rich in its rewards for those who do a little

MEN'S SHOES AT $1 8mail sizes a to 8; all black satured leather, mostly congress, narrow, square and pointed toes; good value at the price.

MEN'S SHOES AT $1.90 bout 1,100 pairs of patent leather and kidskin shors added to this line: mostly laced of the fluor grades; some patent leather congress. Fair appraisal stamps them $3.50 values.

WOMEN'S SHOES AT $1.40 Lot of tan kidskin laced above, flexible soles; me-dium tows; just about half price at the beginning of the season. WOMEN'S BOOTS AT $1 A PAIR Only 240 pairs and only sizes 2½ to 4 in AA and A widths, but culled from 88 lots and parfect in every way. Women with small feet should make prompt response to get three-for-one.

The regular Shoe Store, first floor, divides attention with the Fifth Floor Half-price Store. To-day it calls attention to: A woman's black kidskin and welted-sole shoe at $1.60, black kidskin Oxfords at $2, and nineteen different shoes at $4 a pair, that are nineteen separate and distinct attractions
